Service Outage and Compensation Policy

Document reference TC-POL-005. Issued by TeleCore Communications. This document forms part of the customer agreement and is published in full at telecore.example/policies.

The availability we commit to, which outages attract a credit, how that credit is worked out, and how long you have to claim it.

1. Service level commitment

We commit to 99.5 percent network availability per calendar month, measured per region across our own radio and core network. That allows roughly 3 hours 39 minutes of unavailability in a 30-day month. Availability is measured from our network management systems and is published monthly by region.

2. What qualifies for a credit

An incident qualifies when all of the following are true:

- The incident was unplanned.
- It caused a total loss of service, meaning neither voice nor data was usable.
- It lasted more than 4 continuous hours.
- It affected the area registered against your account.
- Your account was active, and not suspended for non-payment, for the whole of the incident.

2.1 The 4 hours must be continuous. Two separate 3-hour incidents in one day do not combine into a qualifying incident, although a pattern of repeat incidents can be escalated under section 7.

3. What does not qualify

Situation	Reason
Planned maintenance notified at least 5 days in advance	Notified work is excluded however long it runs
Degraded performance without total loss of service	Slow service is managed under TC-POL-002, not here
A fault in your own handset, SIM or settings	Not a network incident
Loss of service outside your registered area	Credits follow the area the account is registered to
Service barred for non-payment or under a security hold	The account was not in service at the time
Events outside our reasonable control, such as a natural disaster or the loss of grid power to a wide area	Force majeure, though goodwill may still be offered

4. How the credit is calculated

Worked example

daily_rate    = monthly_fee / 30 credited_days = ceil(outage_hours / 24), minimum 1 credit        = (daily_rate x credited_days) + goodwill

4.1 A goodwill amount is added for any incident graded Major or Critical, by account segment:

Segment	Goodwill for a Major or Critical incident
VIP	25.00 USD
Business	15.00 USD

Segment	Goodwill for a Major or Critical incident
Premium	10.00 USD
Consumer	10.00 USD
Prepaid	Credit given as 1 day of added validity, no cash amount

Worked example

VIP account on Unlimited Max at 85.00 USD/month, affected by a Major unplanned outage lasting 9 hours 20 minutes:

  daily_rate    = 85.00 / 30          =  2.83 USD credited_days = ceil(9.33 / 24) = 1, minimum 1 applies airtime credit= 2.83 x 1            =  2.83 USD goodwill, VIP                       = 25.00 USD total credit                        = 27.83 USD

4.2 Amounts are rounded to the nearest cent. Where an incident spans two billing cycles, the credit is applied to the cycle in which the incident was resolved.

4.3 Credits are capped at one month of your monthly fee per calendar month, excluding goodwill.

5. Making a claim

5.1 A claim must be made within 30 days of the date the incident was resolved. Claims outside that window are not paid, because the network records used to verify them are not retained beyond it.

5.2 Ask the assistant to raise a service request of type OUTAGE_CREDIT. Quote the incident reference if you have it. You do not need to prove you were affected: we check your registered area against the incident record.

5.3 Where an incident is graded Critical and affected more than 10,000 customers, the credit is applied automatically to every affected account within two billing cycles and no claim is needed. An incident graded Major always requires a claim, however many customers it affected.

5.4 We respond to a claim within 5 working days. An approved credit appears on your next bill.

6. How credits appear

A credit is shown as a separate line on your bill, described as Service Credit with the incident reference. Credits reduce the amount you owe and are not paid out in cash, except on closing an account, when any remaining balance is refunded to your registered payment method within 30 days.

7. Escalation

If you are not satisfied with the outcome of a claim, ask for it to be escalated to the network service team, who will respond within 10 working days with the measurement data behind the decision. Three or more qualifying incidents in a rolling 90-day period entitle you to cancel the subscription without an early termination fee, regardless of how much of the minimum term remains.

8. Definitions

- Outage -- a total loss of voice and data service.
- Degraded -- service is usable but below normal performance. Not an outage.
- Planned maintenance -- work notified at least 5 days in advance.
- Severity -- Minor, Major or Critical, graded by us from the scale and duration of the incident.
- Registered area -- the city and region recorded against your account.
- Incident reference -- the identifier of the form INC-YYYY-NNNN we give each incident.
